

WOW LOGISTICS

BUILD-TO-LEASE

Real Estate Solutions

When it comes to warehouse design and construction, design firms and construction companies often lack the internal expertise and resources to engineer a new facility efficiently. WOW Logistics has nearly 50 years of experience designing and constructing ambient and temperature-controlled warehousing and light manufacturing facilities. Our supply chain expertise, engineering capabilities, financing solutions, and other value-added service offerings set us apart from most general contractors and design-build firms. We eliminate consultant fees and deliver efficient facilities constructed and customized to your unique requirements, faster and more economically.
